PRESS RELEASE

The 6th (last) milestone of the ArcheON INTERREG project

ArcheON – treasures from the ground

The scientific work was performed in 2021.

In 2021, ArcheON's excavation activities have been concluded. Hundreds of pages of excavation documents were written about the countless finds excavated at the 6 sites. Afterwards the restoration and inventory of the finds has been carried out. We have prepared a short summary of each of these for you, highlighting a few curiosities.

Summary - Joint conservation and restoration work

Summary - Joint cataloging work

Historical and archaeological infopoints were established!

The ArcheON infopoints in Schandorf, Hannersdorf, Sé, Dozmat and Szombathely are already open to visitors, cyclists, and hikers. In addition to various field objects, information about the significance of the sites is available at the rest stops on the trilingual information boards. Mobiles in hand! The information panels provide download information for the archaeological treasure map and guide, the app and the thematic experience package.

The archaeological project ArcheON (Reg. Nr. ATHU121) as part of the INTERREG V-A Austria-Hungary program is implemented through the promotion of the European Regional Development Fund.

The treasure map and the app and the experience package are ready and available

After a long preparation phase, the treasure map and the app are now available. Let's discover the archaeological treasures of the Austrian-Hungarian border region together! The multi-day Archeon experience package (including thematic routes and facultative activities) is ready. More information on the project's webpage.

The scientific publication is completed

This time we will oblige the professionals and provide a scientific publication for the presentation of the results of the joint historical and archaeological excavation work to the public. More information on the project's webpage.

The ArcheON travelling exhibition is on its way

The cross-border exhibition of archaeological finds discovered and jointly scientifically processed during the project has opened. The exhibition will be open to the public free of charge at various sites in the border region. Visit the first stops of the travelling exhibition:
in Hungary: Art Gallery of Szombathely
In Austria in Burg Gemeindeamt „Ovar-Inforaum"

Closing event was organised

On 21 and 22 June, the closing event of our three-year cooperation took place. During the event the partners presented the results of the archaeological excavations in the border area Austria-Hungary and its touristic utilisation.

"From a scientific point of view, the ArcheON project perpetuates not only the long-term, close cooperation between Museums and tourism partners, but also brings it to a higher level. The methodologies developed within the project can serve as a common basis for future research activities."
